

The Protected By Allah

I'm gone,
and I'll never come back

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

In the Name of Allah

I am gone,
and I'll never come back

The Protected By Allah

One beautiful morning, Alfred's grandfather was wasting his time by watching a funny video clip, but while he was laughing, the video was cut with a strange message:
(While you're laughing, I'm gone and will never come back)

While Alfred's father was very busy with his work in the company, a new marketing plan came up to him, so he picked up the phone to call one of the employees when he suddenly saw on his computer screen:
(While you're making plans for this life, I'm gone and will never come back)

An illustration of a woman with brown hair tied in a bun, wearing a blue sweater and dark blue pants, sitting on a black sofa. She is holding a smartphone. In the background, there is a grey wall with smoke rising from the left and a blue sky on the right. A large red text message is projected onto the wall behind her. Three red exclamation marks are floating above her head.

*While you are chattering,
I went and will never come back*

While Alfred's mother was wasting her time chattering on the mobile with her friends, she smelled a smoke from the kitchen, she ran for fear of food burning when she found a sheet of burning paper; on it:

(While you are chattering, I went and will never come back)

While Alfred's sister was wasting her time and money by devouring a large amount of sweets that she had bought, she opened the largest of them and bit into it, finding on it a paper that wrote:

4 (While you eat more than you need, I am gone and will never come back)

While Alfred was in the park, he was playing a trick on his friend, so he took a few steps quietly to hit his friend when a small piece of wood hit his head on which was wrote: (While you're doing bad things, I'm gone and I'll never come back)

In the evening, Alfred's family met after dinner, they discussed these strange messages that were sent to each of them.. Everyone asked: Who is this who has gone and will never return???

The father said: He must be a naughty person interfering in our affairs!

Mother said: I don't think so.. all the messages came at the same time and by different ways!

Grandfather said: I think I understood the meaning of these messages.. Since tomorrow I will volunteer in a charitable organization and sit down to do good instead of sitting idle and wasting my good deeds by watching these empty videos!

Father rubbed his head and said:

- As for me, I will start a charitable project alongside my work instead of being selfish, also I will not let work distract me from praying at the beginning of the time, Allah willing!

Mother said:

- I will reduce my talk on the phone and take care of the children's memorization of the Qur'an more, I will also make my words in remembrance of Allah, Allah willing!

Alfred's sister said: I will not waste my money on sweets that are little fun and that hurt my teeth, and I will allocate a share of my money to the hungry poor!

Alfred said while massaging his head in pain:
And I.. and I will stop hitting my friends!

Life

The family laughed, while I stood watching them smiling.

Do you know who I am that go and never come back??
Yes.. I am your life time, your only chance to draw closer to Allah the Almighty.. If you do not use me to do good,
I will go and never return to you with happiness!!

... Completed by the grace of Allah ...

Dear, I have a request for you..
Can you help me publish these stories? 🥰